LINCOLN DAYS: Fun for everyone

BY WES ENGBRECHT

Lincoln Days is a big celebration with a small-town feel. Each year, the closeknit Lincoln community comes together for a weekend filled with fun, laughter and hometown pride.

Providing electricity to Lincoln is a privilege for us at Capital Electric Cooperative. From residents in town to our rural members throughout the area, the entire Lincoln community is part of the cooperative family. We value the opportunity to be involved and celebrate alongside the people we serve.

Capital Electric took part in the Lincoln Days parade, with a bucket truck and walkers representing our parade entry. Handing out candy and exchanging greetings are fun parts of the experience, but what means the most is seeing the recognition from residents of their local electric cooperative.

Those brief conversations are especially rewarding. They're filled with jokes, laughter and meaningful opportunities to express our appreciation for their co-op membership. In return, residents often share their gratitude with comments like, "Thanks for keeping our lights on" and "Keep up the good work!"

Capital Electric Director Kyle Tschosik looks forward to the parade each year.

"Handing out the candy is the best part. There are so many smiles and thank yous," Tschosik says.

Lincoln families were so welcoming as we passed, and the candy may have had something to do with it! Either way, we always have a blast connecting with Lincoln residents and enjoying these moments together.

A favorite at Lincoln's celebration is the touch-a-truck event! Kids and parents alike enjoy getting a close look at emergency and service vehicles, including Sanford Health's AirMed helicopter. Capital Electric Cooperative's bucket truck was also on hand, adding to the fun-filled experience.

The parade brought the community together, drawing attendees from Lincoln and surrounding areas. And it was just one of many highlights during the two-day celebration.

Friday evening started with the NoDak Stompers, a modern line dancing group. The weekend also featured bounce houses, lemonade and barbecue from Big Mouth, along with a variety of activities for all ages.

Other events included a color dash, free popsicles, an escape room at the Lincoln church, karaoke, a vendor show featuring the popular "touch-a-truck" experience, laser tag, a foam party and a parking lot dance. Food trucks added even more options for attendees to enjoy throughout the celebration.

The Lincoln Days celebration is a great example of what makes small communities special. It brings neighbors, families, businesses and community organizations together, and Capital Electric is proud to be part of it.

Thanks to you, Lincoln residents, for making another great celebration happen! ☺

We want your story ideas!

BY WES ENGBRECHT

As we go through months and years of providing you with co-op information in Capital Electric Cooperative's North Dakota Living local pages, we are always considering the stories we can include, such as member interviews, updates regarding lineworker projects and storm responses, community projects and more. We receive good story ideas from members along the way, and we welcome those ideas.

As Capital Electric members, you are part of the co-op family. As employees of the co-op, we experience positive interactions with many of you as we work to ensure we are doing the best we can.

If you have a story idea or would just like to talk about something that may be of interest, I would love to hear from you. I may not always be able to accommodate a story idea, as we have information we must include in each issue, but I am open to listening to your ideas. You see my name in many of our magazine articles, and many would say they see my face on the pages quite a bit as well.

If you would like to connect with me, please call 701-712-7923 or email me at wese@capitalelec.com. I look forward to hearing from you and getting to know you, our members, better. ☺
